TAFT PREACHES TO MANY KINDS OF CONGREGATION

"No church in this country, however humble it may be, that preaches the doctrine of true religion and true morality, will lack my earnest support to make it more influential whenever opportunity offers."—President Taft.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 3.—President Taft preached another sermon today. The scene had changed from the Mormon tabernacle at Salt Lake City to the corner-stone laying of the First Universalist Church in East Portland.

The President handled the silver trowel and worked hard to see that the stone was properly adjusted. His apparent earnestness in setting the stone called out applause.

Mr. Taft had a truly religious day, which began when he attended the morning services at the First Unitarian Church in Portland and listened to a sermon by the Rev. W. G. Elliot, Jr. Following this service the President was the guest at a luncheon given by Senator Bourne at which he met State and city officials.

Early in the afternoon the President visited St. Mary's Catholic school and made a five minute address to the school children in which he declared that loyalty to the church meant fidelity to country.

CORNERSTONE OF CIVILIZATION.

The line of march followed by the Presidential party to East Portland was crowded and there was handclapping and cheering all along the way. After the President had been introduced at the cornerstone laying by the Rev. James Corby, pastor of the church, he said:

"I don't know that any one questions the propriety of my being here and officiating on such an occasion as this, or that an explanation of any sort is called for. But I want to say that I believed it to be the duty of the President of these United States to welcome and to suggest every instrument by which the morals and religion of the community may be elevated and maintained.

"Not long ago I officiated at the cornerstone laying of an orthodox Congregational church in Washington. Then I appeared in the pulpit of a Jewish tabernacle at Pittsburgh. But a few days ago I helped to lay the cornerstone of a Catholic institution at Helena, Mont.

"And now it is my great pleasure to assist here today in laying the cornerstone of this Universalist church, which, like my own, the Unitarian Church, is known as a liberal one.

"I am glad always to be present at such occasions as these, for I believe the cornerstones of modern civilization must continue to be religion and morality."

SEES SIGNS OF CHURCH UNITY.

The President told some of his experiences with the Catholic Church in the Philippines, and then said that on the occasion of his visit to Rome he ventured to say to the Pope that while in America the sentiment was strong for the separation of Church and State, there was nothing in the American Government or American people that opposed the Church or its highest development; that in no European country had the Catholic Church flourished as it had in America; that in this country the Catholic Church received from the Government and State officials only that treatment accorded to every other denomination.

He continued:

"I added that this was not to be taken as an indication that every Government and State official was other than anxious to encourage the establishment and maintenance of churches, and that their influence might be broadened throughout the land.

"I think we have reached the time when the churches are growing together, when there is less bitterness of denominational dispute, and that no matter what creed we may follow, the churches are beginning to realize that they must stand shoulder to shoulder in the contest for righteousness; that we all stand for the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

"I am an optimist. I believe we are much better today than we were 50 years ago, man by man. I believe we are more altruistic and more interested in our fellow-man than we have been at any time in the past 50 years. Of course you hear, from time to time, of instances of selfishness and greed, but the only reason these instances are given prominence is because we condemn them the more and believe that in calling attention to them they will be made more and more infrequent."

TALKS TO CATHOLIC CHILDREN.

Mr. Taft was presented to the boys and girls of St. Mary's Catholic School by Archbishop Christie. The President made his short address from the steps of the building. He said:

"Your Church teaches that loyalty to God is the same as fidelity to country and reverence for constituted authority, and so do all good churches.

"And we can be very certain that those who are loyal to their Church are certain to be loyal to their country; that those who are good Catholics are good citizens, just as those who are consistent members of other churches find in the doing of their duty to the churches everything that leads them on to the uplifting of humanity and the observation of all the obligations to the Government."

SPORTS OAHU LEAGUE WINTER SERIES

Everything has been made lovely in the lately jarring directorate of the Oahu League. In consequence a winter season of classy ball will open at the Athletic Park on Sunday. At a meeting last night, with President E. W. Quinn in the chair, all rifts in the rule were patched and the patch securely glued.

Manuel Moses submitted a list of new players for the Boers to replace those who had dropped out, and the substitution was promptly ratified.

Then the Dragonlets came up with two men to take the place of a pair gone to China. En Sue is one and Raymond Hae the other. Of Sue no baseball fan in Honolulu needs information. Hae is a recent arrival from Japan, where he pitched for Yokohama against Waseda and other teams. He is a southpaw.

Sergeant Davis of the Marines was again authorized to hunt up a catcher.

Sunday's games will be Boers vs. Halfwets and Dragonlets vs. Nipponese.

Come one, come all. To root and bawl.

INAUGURATION OF NEW GYMNASIUM

Under the supervision of Superintendent J. A. Rath the gymnasium of the Palama Settlement was opened last night. There was a grand march of the young people of many nationalities. Music and refreshments were provided. A tremendous babel of joy prevailed. The gymnasium is well equipped and cost about $8000. On the ground floor there are a bowling alley, a swimming pool, a rowing machine, iron lockers etc. The second floor contains the gymnasium proper, well supplied with apparatus for athletic exercise, its floor marked off for basketball.

Mike Paton will be referee at tomorrow night's glove duel. Rellly bottled the council of war at Cullen's nomination of Dick Sullivan, and Cullen after much palaver accepted Rellly's choice, to wit, Paton. The boxing will be under Marquis of Queensberry rules. Preliminary bouts will be interesting.

Owing to uncertain weather the yachting package race to Kaena Point is postponed from tomorrow for one week.
